sheeps of the immense buying of munitions, horses, mules, breadstuffs and other supplies by the allies, and by reason of the limited exports, an apparent balance of trade of many millions has been established in the United States sufficient to make both sterling exchange and francs decline to the lowest point on record.

A new low record on sterling, $4.79 per pound English, was established Pebruary 16, but yesterday the drop carried the price to $4.78% per English pound. Announcement of liberal engagements of gold for import did not help the market.

Hankers have held that whenever sterling exchange touches $4.7945 per pound gold can be imported profitably. But at this time there is a hazard in undertaking the import from London, and the Bank of England might not permit of the shipment of the metal; hence the weakening trend of the exchange market.

Ottawa has contributed $11,500,000 gold since March 19.
